The OC Film School: A revolutionary new program...

The OC Film School shatters the mold of the traditional film school, offering a world-class education at an unbeatable price. Unlike other film schools, where students are required to pick an area of specialization, OC students gain hands-on experience in all aspects of digital filmmaking.

Hands on Experience – Learn all aspects of digital filmmaking, from producing and directing, to cinematography, production, screenwriting and acting.

Unbeatable Price – The average price to attend film schools nationally can cost upwards of $35,000/year. Students attending the OC Film School won't pay close to that in four years combined.

World Class Instructors – The OC Film School is taught by industry professionals who are thriving in new media markets like Netflix, Amazon Prime and Hulu.

State of the Art Facilities – Housed in OC's newest building, the OC Film School features all of the facilities and equipment you'd expect in a professional production studio.

Resume Building – Our award-winning student films are featured in regional, national, and international film festivals and competitions.
